Hockey Club Elects Rippon President; Scodellaro Awarded Gordon Efficiency Medal

With H. C. McBurney as chairman, the Coleman Canadians held their annual banquet on the termination of the season. The toast to "The King" was honored, and also a toast to the Canadians, proposed by Dr. Keith McLean, and responded to by John Kwasney and Coach Jimmy Evans.

Albert F. Short spoke on behalf of McGillivray Co. and J. J. McIntyre for International Co. A very nice supper was served, for which a vote of thanks was tendered the Grand Union hotel management.

Following the supper, the business meeting was held, and the following officers elected: G. Kellock, honorary president; W. L. Rippon, president; Dr. K. McLean, vice-president; H. C. McBurney, team manager; Frank G. Cressgan, business manager; R. F. Barnes, C. J. Devine, executive.

The total receipts for the season amounted to $5,011.55, the biggest item being $2,065.65 from the games between Canadians and Luscar played in Calgary. Next highest receipts were from the Macleod game, $293.45, while the lowest receipts from games was also one in which Macleod played, being $30.85. It was the best season the club has had.

The total disbursements for equipment, travelling, printing, and other expenses, amounted to $4,811.00. The club carries forward a balance, as at March 26, 1936, of $412.00.

Discussion on next playing season indicated a desire to enter a senior league, as it was considered a bigger game would result from a better class of games. The matter will receive consideration from the club executive. Some talk has been going the rounds of trying to arrange for Canadians to play in the East Kootenay league.

The secretary is to be appointed by the executive. Ian Neave has filled the position efficiently during the past year.

LECTURE ON ART PROVES HIGHLY INTERESTING

Major Norbury Expressed View and Comment on Works of Prominent Artists—Lantern Slides Shown

The lecture on modern art by Major Norbury in the parish hall on Wednesday evening, March 25, proved very interesting and was appreciated. He explained in a most interesting style his views on various pictures which were shown by means of lantern slides, describing the good and bad features of the pictures.

Some were mystifying, to say the least, and made people, unable to fathom the working of the artist's mind, wonder what impression the painter was trying to convey. Especially true was this of the picture of Epstein's of the Madonna and Child, which to most people gave the impression of ugliness rather than beauty.

Reviewing the personalities of several of the artists whose pictures were shown, Major Norbury indicated that some were unbalanced, which may account for some of the strange pictures produced by them.

He also described the process of making etchings, and their method of reproduction from steel plates, and also the process of wood-cuts and reproductions in linocut.

The lecture was held through the co-operation of Coleman School Board with the Carnegie Art Institute, which sets aside a sum of money for Alberta for the purpose of bringing to the people lecturers in art and kindred subjects. The literary and arrangements made by the Extension Department of the University of Alberta, Major Norbury making mention of their co-operation, and also acknowledging the support of Coleman school trustees in enabling the lecture to be given here.

During the day Major Norbury also spoke in Central and Cameron schools.

NO CHANGE IN ATTITUDE OF R.C.M.P. HEADQUARTERS

Commissioner Newsom Refuses to Open Detachment in Coleman—Up to Town to Assume Responsibility, He States

Despite efforts made by the local council, through E. O. Duke, M.L.A., and Rev. Roy C. Taylor, M.L.A., to have more adequate policing of Coleman by the R.C.M.P., Commissioner Newsom interviewed in Edmonton tells the town it is up to the council to do its police work, including the work which should rightly be done by the R.C.M.P.

If this is the attitude, the town has every right to ask that it be returned a share of the liquor profits to pay for police work. In British Columbia every urban municipality receives a substantial share of liquor profits, far more than the cost of local police work. In Alberta all the profits go to the provincial government.

Edmonton, Alberta, Mar. 31, 1936. Dear Sir: Re: your request for a police detachment to be stationed at Coleman, Alberta.

I beg to state that the attorney-general advised Mr. Taylor and myself to interview the Police Commissioner, Colonel Newsom. In order to do this we absented ourselves for one hour from the session yesterday afternoon.

In our interview with the police commissioner we stated, as best we could, the urgent need for a detachment to be placed in your town; showing the tremendous revenue received from the coal mining industry and liquor traffic there. The commissioner stated that the police department was not responsible for policing the town of Coleman as it was an incorporated town and therefore it was up to your town to assume this responsibility for yourselves.

Regarding the detachment stationed in the Blairmore detachment, the commissioner stated that these men were there for the purpose of maintaining (Continued on Back Page)

The PERFECT Chewing Tobacco

Eradication Of Tuberculosis

Great forward strides have been made in the fight to stem the toll of human life taken by tuberculosis in the prairie provinces in the past few years but there are evidences that complete victory has not yet been won. There is more work yet to be done before this enemy of mankind can be said to have been totally routed.

As most residents of that province are aware, tuberculosis in Saskatchewan was some years ago brought virtually within the category of State Medicine when the sanatoria were placed under the administration of the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League, with authority given the League to impose an annual tax levy on all municipalities, rural and urban, which, supported by government grants, furnishes the finances for treatment of all cases of the disease found within the province. In addition, it should be added, the funds for supplementary preventive work are secured from voluntary contributions realized by the sale of Christmas seals.

While not quite patterned on the Saskatchewan system, the fight against the disease in Manitoba is waged along somewhat similar lines and at the time of writing the Alberta Legislature has a bill before it which will virtually place the war against T. B. in that province within the State Medicine plane, it adopted.

As a result of the work done in Saskatchewan during the past decade that province can boast, and with justification, that it is in the van of the fight and has to-day the lowest death rate from tuberculosis of any province in the Dominion, 30 per 4,000 deaths for last year.

Facts and figures show that, partly as a result of the preventive work, the incidence of the disease in Saskatchewan has passed the peak, that the former upward curve of the number of cases treated annually is now trending in a downward direction and that, as a further result, space in hospitals which have had to care for an overflow for which provision could not be made in the sanatoria, is no longer required for T.B. cases. An additional result is that patients in the sanatoria can be held there for treatment longer than was formerly possible, thus improving their chances of complete recovery.

While this is all to the good, there yet remain two real hazards to be definitely eradicated. These are the menace afforded by the Indian and the cow.

In the early days when the Indians roamed the prairies and lived in the open tuberculosis was practically unknown among them. It was not until they were taught to adopt the habits of the whites and confine themselves in permanent homes that they became subject to tuberculosis. Since that time the disease has become rampant among the aborigines and is taking heavy toll. In other words, the "whites" presented the Indians with tuberculosis and to-day the Indians are returning the compliment by infecting the whites with whom they come in frequent contact.

Figures were recently quoted showing that the incidence of tuberculosis among the Indian population of the prairie provinces is ten times as great as among the white inhabitants and it appears that very little at present is being done to cope with the menace.

The Indians are the wards of the Federal government and this is a situation which should receive the immediate attention of the authorities at Ottawa, if the efforts of the provincial governments in reducing the disease among the other residents of the provinces are not to be at least partially negated.

The other danger spot in the situation is the prevalence of bovine tuberculosis among cattle. While much has been done to reduce this disease among the cattle of the prairie provinces and to minimize the risk of infection from cattle to human beings via the milk route, there is still danger of infection from this source and will continue to be until it has been entirely stamped out of the herds.

Eradication will not be complete until such time as compulsory inspection of cattle for bovine tuberculosis and slaughter of all i-cactors in the entire zone of the three provinces is in effect, but this consumption cannot be achieved until there is a sufficiently strong public demand for it.

Until that time farmers and residents of the smaller towns and villages outside of the T.B. free zones are subject to risk of contagion by milk from cattle suffering from bovine tuberculosis. This risk, however, could be materially minimized if farmers and others owning milk cattle would in the meantime, have their cattle tested at their own expense and slaughter re-actors. By so doing, they can at least afford protection for their own families and their customers.

It is true that such action might result in some immediate financial loss to cattle owners who take this precaution, but it might be less expensive in the long run than to continue to take chances of infection from that source.

May Move Woolwich Arsenal

Vulnerability Of London To Air Attacks Is Reason Given

New emphasis on the vulnerability of London to air attack is found in reports that the government is seriously considering moving sections of Woolwich arsenal to more remote places in the British Isles.

Talk of its removal has given the alarmists new occasion to paint a picture of gas, incendiary and explosive bombs, raining down upon the city—a city which already knows, from experience, of the terror of air raids.

It has provided proponents of a stronger air defence with new arguments in their claims that London, with its 8,000,000 inhabitants, and easily accessible from the continent, is not protected against the bombing plane.

Winston Churchill likened London to a "great fat cow which would soon be at the mercy of the nearest foraging dictator."

Public concern is likewise being fanned by current discussion in the press and in parliament as to the ability of the navy to defend itself against air attack. Outnumbering this, however, there is the expansion, both real and indicated, of the Royal Air Force; the development of air defence; the hinted discovery of anti-aircraft weapons which would keep air invaders at bay, despite the fact London is but a matter of minutes from the continent by air.

Those who want the Woolwich arsenal moved claim it has so far been the "fatally weak spot" in every defence plan yet devised for London. No way has been found, it is stated, of protecting the arsenal and rendering it immune from attack from the skies.

King's Birthday

His Majesty Will Ride At Head Of His Troops On Anniversary

King Edward will ride at the head of his troops for the first time as sovereign when he celebrates his 42nd birthday, June 23.

It was officially announced His Majesty's birthday will be celebrated in London and at all stations of the royal navy, the army and the royal air force at home and abroad.

The principal function will be the trooping of the colors on the Horse Guards' parade. This was a ceremony always observed by the late King George, and on his last birthday, June 3, His late Majesty rode with his four sons in the picturesque ceremonial.

His Majesty's ships will be dressed over for the occasion, and royal salutes of 21 guns will be fired at certain stations. Land forces will hold ceremonial parades.

War Is Still On

Due To Omission In Participating In Signing Of Peace Treaties

A recent incident has revealed the fact that the republic of San Marino is still at war with Turkey.

The manager of a Turkish agricultural institute recently spent a few months in Europe in connection with scientific studies. When he crossed into the territory of San Marino he was greatly astonished when he was arrested as an undesirable national of a country at war with the republic.

In 1915 San Marino joined Italy in a declaration of war on Turkey, but, owing to some omission, it was invited neither to participate in the peace negotiations nor to sign the treaty of Lausanne with Turkey.

Subjects of the republic of San Marino in Turkey have always been treated as Italian nationals.

Harness 80 Years Old Is Still Being Used

Some kind of record may be claimed for a set of harness in almost daily use in the Orkney district of Saskatchewan. The harness is said to be around 80 years in use, having come to the United States in 1870 and found its way via Minnesota to Saskatchewan. Formerly used to decorate thoroughbred stallions and mares, it is now used on ponies which draw children to school.

Testing Television System

British Broadcasting Company To Stage Program Very Soon

The world's first government-controlled television programs will be broadcast very soon when the British Broadcasting Company stages "hear-and-see" tests from Alexandra Palace.

Plans already are afoot to "televise" King Edward VIII, next Christmas Day when he goes before the microphone to extend his Christmas greetings to the empire. If this royal innovation is successful the King's coronation—probably in May or June of next year—will be televised from Westminster Abbey in all its centuries-old pomp and splendor. Converting of Alexandra Palace, an ornate remnant of Victorian days atop a hill in North London, into a television station is being rushed, and postoffice engineers are laying the television cable, connecting London and Birmingham. The cable costs $5,000 a mile, but when completed will carry a load of 200 separate telephone conversations when not in television use.

Birmingham probably will be the site of the next station. It would be able to take some of its programs by the land-line cable from Alexandra Palace, which in turn can be connected with the B.B.C. Broadcasting House six miles away in the heart of London and thence to "outside relay points" such as Westminster Abbey.

The only hitch is that few Britons will have television sets when the first "televized" broadcasts are made. They'll have to go to a theatre or public hall. Manufacturers, although they say they have perfected moderately priced receiving outfits, cannot place them on the market with any guarantee of good reception. They have had an opportunity of cutting them in on regular transmissions from Alexandra Palace. This will take two or three months after the first tests.

Broadcasting officials and equipment manufacturers say that "look-in" will be established in England by that winter and that receiving sets will be sold at from $55 to $350.

Concession To Indians

May Carry On With Potlatch Ceremony In British Columbia

Indians of the Alert Bay district in British Columbia are given another chance by the House of Commons to practice their ancient potlatch, once a regular orgy but now a more or less harmless ceremony dating back through the ages.

The potlatch has been dying out in recent years and is limited to Indians of the awkward agency on the Pacific coast who have refused to observe laws outlawing it. It is a sort of generosity spree in its present-day form. Indians collect all sorts of things, food, blankets or household utensils, call in their friends and give everything away. They have been known to impoverish themselves for years.

The Indian act provides jail sentences for Indians practicing the potlatch, but the Alert tribe had disregarded it. Indian Minister Crear proposed a bill in the House making the act still more stringent. It received second reading but he dropped the anti-potlatch clauses in committee stage after A. W. Neil (Ind., Comox-Alberni) led a strenuous opposition to it.

The jail sentences still stand but the house decided to permit the evolutionary influences of education, which have stamped it out almost, to continue to combat it.

Air Conditioned Trains

C.N.R. Lines To Adopt This Innovation During 1936

Air-conditioning of principal lines of the Canadian National Railways system will be undertaken during 1936, according to the annual report tabled in the House of Commons. While the board of trustees declared there was no economic justification for any wholesale replacement of equipment, nor were there financial resources available for such a program, the air-conditioning of main passenger trains was a necessity.

During the year 1935 authority was given for the retirement of 16,912 units of obsolete equipment involving a charge against profit and loss account of $23,238,827. At the same time orders were placed for 100 gondolas cars essential to traffic requirements on the Grand Trunk western.

Peeled peaches will discolor unless handled rapidly. It is asserted by canners that this discoloration can be removed by blanching the fruit a few minutes in boiling water.

Home Life In Russia

Speaker Says Life In Russia Much The Same To-Day As In Other Countries

Homes in Russia where whole families were crowded into one, two and—if fortunate—three rooms, were mentioned in an address at the Women's Canadian Club at Ottawa by Miss Hebe Spaul, member of the staff of the League of Nations in London.

She then told of clubs in the same city where children from seven to 17 attend their own theatres and cinemas, keep their white mice, canaries and other animals in the "pet rooms", do their homework under the supervision of qualified teachers, take up any hobby they agree to join an orchestra.

Home life in Russian cities to-day is much the same as in other countries, except for the "appalling" overcrowding, according to Miss Spaul, who said huge blocks of flats and skyscrapers were being built but could not keep pace with the increasing city populations.

The average Russian has a normal family life. There are creches and kindergartens for children of working mothers, clubs for adults and "magnificently" organized clubs for children. Education is optional for children from five to seven years of age, but is compulsory for those from seven to 17.

The clubs are a useful innovation that owing to crowded home conditions have become necessary. The new cities are not quite so crowded, and conditions with families living in self-contained flats with gas, electric light and telephone are similar to those on this continent.

Marriage is regarded as permanent, divorces are still easy to obtain, but regulations relating to dissolving marriages are being tightened, Miss Spaul remarked. "The Russians have seen their mistake."

Interest in the welfare of children is the main objective of the present laws.

Musician And Artist

Man Made Beautiful Violin From Matches And Toothpicks

Piece by piece, section by section, John Swiatkowski of Windsor, Ont., spent one year in making a violin of match sticks and toothpicks, until he has a remarkable instrument which experts say has tone and quality. More than 15,000 sections were matched with infinite care.

Not only a musician, John, 23 years of age, is an artist as well. On the reverse side of the violin, he has included the picture of a beautiful woman whose eyes alone comprise 60 tiny pieces of wood; a rose whose every petal and thorn stand out against the workmanship of the background of the instrument's reversed side.

The designs have been inlaid across the grain of the thousands of matched pieces without affecting the melow tone.

In some sections, John explained, the violin contains three thicknesses of match sticks and toothpicks, to give the proper strength and shape.

The King's English

Recent Address Broadcast By Edward VIII. Was Good Sample

The papers freely discussed the address delivered by King Edward VIII. on March 1, the first to his people since ascending the throne. Considerable attention is given his choice of language and pronunciation. It is pointed out, for instance, that he used the word "radio," rather than "wireless," thus accepting the designation more common in Canada and the United States than in the Old Country. Another commentator mentions his pronunciation of "broadcast" with the short "a" as used in Canada and United States rather than the English inflection "broadcasts." All seem to agree that he was as correct in his pronunciation as in his selection of styles in clothing, which is something, too, when it is realized that the new King was probably as nervous as any other ordinary man would be in approaching the microphone on such an auspicious occasion, and therefore, liable to some slight slip in pronunciation or articulation. —Port Arthur News Chronicle.

"A SIMPLE little thing," declared Prof. W. B. Cartmel, of the University of Montreal, sitting in the book-strewn study of his Westmount home where, for some months past, since his retirement from the Northern Electric Company, as mathematical expert, he has worked out the highly complicated mathematical formulas by which he attempts to disprove the Einstein theory of the non-existence of ether and the constant speed of light. Addressing the American Physical Society in New York recently, he took his audience by surprise when he showed them that the slight difference observed between the velocity of light in the two beams reflected upon the interferometer in the original telescope experiment many years ago was not an error as Einstein maintains, but was just what should be expected, and indicates an "ether drift" and proves Newton's third law correct and logical. "In any case," says the genial professor with a merry twinkle in his eyes, "they have got to 'show me' by better proof than they have yet brought."

COLEMAN BIDS FOR TOURIST TRADE

The entire Dominion expects a bang-up good tourist trade this season. In view of this there are two indications that Coleman, Alberta, is a live-wire town. On the front page of the Journal for March 19th appeared a six column head proclaiming in letters bold "Coleman has bright year ahead—800 employed."

Not far below appeared a very good picture of Crows Nest Lake and Mountain (altitude 9,200 feet) with the notation, "The drive around the lake on a gravelled highway is very popular, and attracts many visitors from southern Alberta."

Hitler's Policies Are Endorsed By German Plebiscite

Berlin. — Germany expressed in votes its overwhelming approval of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's policies, including his remilitarization of the Rhineland and denunciation of the Locarno treaty.

Under the pressure of the Nazi propaganda machine, Der Fuehrer won the greatest majority the head of any state ever received, in the election of candidates for the reichstag.

The final official recapitulation of returns showed that 97.75 per cent. of those who voted marked "X" in the sole circle on the ballots.

Of the 45,428,641 qualified voters, 44,892,476 voted and 44,406,522 or 97.75 per cent. showed their approval of the reichsfuehrer's policies. There were 542,954 invalid ballots, and 476,165 persons qualified to vote did not exercise the franchise.

If a voter left his ballot blank or treated it in any manner other than placing an "X" in the circle, it was counted invalid. This group, therefore, included those who wished to express disapproval of the reichsfuehrer's policies.

The final figures, corrected once by an official announcement, were still subject to possible slight alterations. The early ballot counting showed Hitler having as much as 99.1 per cent. approval but more invalid votes showed up later.

The greatest majority Hitler had had in previous plebiscites was in December, 1933, when 99.1 per cent. of the voters approved Germany's quitting the League of Nations and the disarmament conference.

From the list of 1,035 candidates, Der Fuehrer will select the reichstag members, who probably will number about 700, depending on the total number of ballots cast.

Exhortations had been dimmed in the ears of the German people since March 7 to vote for Hitler, and Nazi trumpets and squawking automobile horns called them to the polls.

Soviet Aviators Will Try Flight Over Franz Josef Land

Moscow. — Two Soviet flyers will soon attempt to make the first airplane flight ever attempted over Franz Josef Land, glacial archipelago in the Arctic circle, it was announced here.

The two airmen will take off from the Nova Zembla islands, in the seas north of Russia, and endeavor to fly 400 miles of frozen sea to their destination.

Dionne Denies Report

Callander, Ont. — Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Dionne, parents of the quintuplets, have signed no contract or agreement for their appearance in any motion picture, Dionne told the Canadian Press, denying a reported statement to that effect by Charles Rogers of Universal Studio in Hollywood.

Government Would Guarantee Seed Loans To Saskatchewan

Ottawa. — Dominion government guarantees of seed grain loans for Saskatchewan up to a maximum of $4,000,000 would be authorized under a bill introduced in the House of Commons by Finance Minister Dunning. The bill received first reading after a brief debate.

During the past season considerable damage was caused in the west by rust with the result the grain is no good for seed, said Mr. Dunning. This condition was particularly bad in Saskatchewan.

The Saskatchewan government now had legislation under which it co-operated with municipalities in assisting farmers to obtain seed grain. The province guaranteed bank loans obtained by municipalities for seed purchase. The purpose of the bill was to add the guarantee of the federal government to that of the province in order to enable the lowest possible interest rate to be obtained.

The aggregate amount which might be guaranteed was $4,000,000 and provision was made that if the federal government should be called

Requests Immediate Action

Solving Of Railway Problem Asked By Canadian Chamber Of Commerce

Montreal. — "Immediate and effective action to solve our urgent and pressing railway problem," was asked by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in a communication despatched to government authorities at Ottawa. Recommendations were made to the government by the chamber, "in view of the serious financial situation of Canada."

The chamber also recommended that power to regulate rates and service, now in the hands of the government, should be carefully protected, and if necessary the functions and authority of the board of railway commissioners should be extended.

Wheat Board Probe

Minister Of Trade And Commerce Is Appointed Chairman

Ottawa. — The house committee to inquire into the operations of the wheat board chose Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, as its chairman. He said the committee was established because of charges made by Conservative Leader Bennett in connection with sales of wheat by the new wheat board.

The house will be asked to grant the committee permission to employ counsel and an auditor if the committee finds it advisable.

The chairman will appoint a sub-committee of five to prepare an agenda.

School Grants Remain Same

Saskatchewan Cannot Make Any Increase Until Next Year

Saskatoon. — There will be no increase in Saskatchewan school grants this year, C. W. McCool, K.C., chairman, told the high school board here. He said he had been in conversation with Premier W. J. Patterson and the premier had stated the province would be in no position to increase the grants until after another crop had been harvested.

The answer was given by the chairman of the board in response to a question from a board member. In replying, Mr. McCool said the premier had assured him increases would be given next year.

Letter To King Edward

Toronto. — Olivia Dionne's letter to King Edward VIII, asking that custody of his quintuplets be restored to him has returned to Ontario. It was received from Ottawa by Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary, who passed it on to Welfare Minister Croll. Mr. Croll, it is expected, will answer the letter, explaining that the king, who has the five babies as his wards, is determined to keep control of them for the present at least.

To Meet In Winnipeg

Annual Meeting Of Weekly Newspaper Association Will Be Held In West

Ottawa. — The board of directors of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association decided to hold the annual meeting of the association at Winnipeg the second week in July. The board sat all day and was told by C. V. Charters, of Brampton, Ont., its managing-director, membership in the association was growing, a reflection of improved business conditions in this country. Mr. Charters said the association's financial condition was satisfactory.

Five members of the board called on Finance Minister Dunning at the House of Commons. The deputation included Charles A. Barber of Chilliwack, B.C., president, and S. J. Dorfman of Alameda, Sask.

The deputation presented a brief which had been prepared during the day session. It dealt with relation of the weekly paper to the federal government and the weekly newspaper's phase as far as government advertising was concerned. Other matters of common interest also were presented.

C. W. Holmes, Rosetown, Sask., was among directors present.

Canadian Legion Meetings

Decide To Alternate Between Eastern And Western Centres

Vancouver. — The Canadian Legion turned down a proposal that all future conventions be held at Ottawa and decided they be alternated between eastern and western centres with the Dominion executive empowered to call a convention if an emergency arises.

It was also decided that a convention be held in Ottawa shortly after each Dominion election, and that not more than two years elapse between conventions.

Brig-Gen. Alex Ross, Yorkton, Sask., Dominion president, introduced the motion that all conventions be held in Ottawa. He felt that Ottawa was closer to the heart of legion activities and meetings there would help cut down expenses.

British Columbia delegates introduced the amendment that the meetings be alternated between all western and this carried. The next convention city will be decided upon by a vote of the membership.

C.P.R. Motion Picture

British Company To Film Early History Of Road

Calgary. — A motion picture based on the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway with "atmosphere shots" taken in the Canadian Rockies, will be made by a British film company.

Old towns along the railway famous in construction days, will be rebuilt and much of the action of the picture will be in the vicinity of Yale, B.C.

Headed by George Busby, one of Britain's leading film executives, a party of five men, bound for Revelstoke, with cameras and equipment passed through Calgary recently.

Would Buy Criminals

Toronto. — Co-operation of the Dominion departments of justice and immigration with a view to crushing immigration of aliens of a criminal type into Canada so that so many would not come before Canadian courts was suggested by the general sessions grand jury before Judge James Parker.

NEW DEFENCE HEAD

Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General of Great Britain since 1932, has been named as the new minister to co-ordinate the defence forces of Great Britain.

Expresses Regret

Premier Taschereau Deplores Move To Make Quebec A Distinct State

Quebec. — Regret was expressed by Premier Taschereau in the Quebec legislature at announcements made by "well-informed but mistaken" French-Canadians they were working to make the province a distinct French and Roman Catholic state.

Such a movement was unfortunate, the premier declared, because Quebec at that time was attracting much attention from people seeking to invest capital here.

"The Ontario government recently repudiated contracts," he said, "Quebec did not. And I hope will never do so."

He appealed to all French-Canadians and Roman Catholics to refrain from "a useless and unwarranted religious warfare which could serve no useful purpose and would do considerable harm."

To Supervise Fisheries Patrol

Appointment For Man Who Resigned Seat For Dunning

Ottawa. — The government position given James J. Larabee, of Eldon, P.E.I., who resigned in Quebec to make a vacancy for Finance Minister Dunning, calls for supervision over operation of the fisheries patrol services with a view to effecting economies.

Documents relative to the appointment were tabled in the House of Commons at the request of A. J. Brooks (Cons. Royal). They showed that Mr. Larabee, member-elect for Queens, had been made "special officer in the fisheries protective service" at $3,500 salary with travelling and living expenses when away from home.

The order instructed Mr. Larabee to devote his full time to supervision of operation of the fisheries protective vessels and the fisheries patrol boards on the Atlantic. He was not to interfere with their operations or routine of work, but to report to the department suggested means of effecting economies.

Postponed Indefinitely

Edmonton. — Registration of Alberta citizens who would be eligible for Social Credit basic dividends has been postponed indefinitely. Premier Aberhart said in explaining lack of action since the plan was announced last autumn.

MAYOR OF COLOGNE WELCOMES TROOPS

The Lord Mayor of Cologne, right, is shown greeting General von Kluge, Commander of the German Troops, which entered the demilitarized Rhineland in defiance of the Locarno Treaty.

Some German Move Now Indispensable To Clear Rhineland Crisis

London. — Joachim von Ribbentrop, seeking Great Britain's last word before returning to Berlin to report, to Adolf Hitler on the Rhineland crisis negotiations, conferred with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden at the foreign office.

Informed sources said the reich emissary sought an explanation of parts of Eden's speech to the House of Commons, in which the foreign secretary warned Germany a conciliatory gesture of some kind was necessary to solve the Rhineland impasse, but also advised France to try to deal with Der Fuehrer with an open mind.

Hitler's ambassador-at-large was understood to be perturbed by some sections of Eden's address—a reaffirmation of Britain's obligations under the Locarno pact which was acclaimed generally by the British as the greatest of his career. German quarters said Hitler's counter proposals to the Locarno powers plan consisted of "a precise and constructive" elaboration of Hitler's original offer of March 7, the date that he remilitarized the Rhineland.

Reviewing Anthony Eden's declaration of the government's foreign policy in the existing European situation the Times described his statement as "the best he has given since he became foreign secretary."

He thought he also was wise to acknowledge there was a critical mood in the house.

"The British demand upon Germany is what she shall see for herself what is plain to the partial eye in every other country: viz. that some German move is indispensable now to help in clearing the debris of the old treaty from the side of the new," the paper said. "Germany cannot be the only power to refuse her share of this preliminary reconstruction."

The Daily Mail thought the speech lacked realism and ignored "the vital fact that the British public regards the treaties of Locarno and Versailles as a dead letter. His language meant British obligations under the Locarno was vague in the extreme."

The Herald believed "the speech was received with disappointment and dismay by those holding that our policy should be based upon the league. The government is anxious to wash their hands of all responsibilities outside the immediate European west."

According to the Daily Express, "the only thing the man in the streets says is 'I don't care if France or Germany broke Locarno; I am not going to fight for either side.'"

Constitutional Autonomy

Changes In B.N.A. Act To Come Up In Senate

Ottawa. — Constitutional autonomy for Canada, which has been much to the fore since the Dominion-provincial conference last December, will be brought up in the senate but is not expected to be a direct issue in House of Commons debates during the present session. Debate in the lower house will have reference to specific amendments.

Hon. George Lynch-Staunton has given notice that he will "draw the attention of the senate to and inquire of the government whether it is the intention of the government to take steps to have legislation passed by the imperial parliament to the end that the parliament of Canada shall have the authority from time to time to amend the British North America Act as it may deem proper."

A sub-committee of experts named by the committee on constitutional provisions conferred at the Dominion-provincial conference in December, is still busy drafting the proposed new British North America Act, which it is proposed to re-enact as the constitution of Canada.

Since this draft will have to be considered not only by the Dominion parliament but by the legislatures of all the provinces, it is now apparent that no final action can be taken until next year. Many of the provincial legislatures will soon conclude their annual sessions.

It was decided at the Dominion-provincial conference that the Dominion and the provinces and the Dominion in agreement, that many amendments to the constitution were necessary and that Canada should obtain for herself the right to alter her own constitution. New Brunswick dissented.

Lloyd George Issues Warning Of Dangers Of Military Alliances

London. — David Lloyd George, Great Britain's wartime prime minister, uttered a dramatic warning of the "dangers" of a military convention in the House of Commons.

Speaking on the debate on the European situation following a statement to the house by Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, Lloyd George said: "The moment you make a military convention, power at a time of crisis passes from governments to the military man."

Lloyd George, with oratory that held the house spellbound, uttered a dramatic warning against the dangers of a military alliance. The French were taking "an absolutely different view to ourselves as regards the steps to be taken if the powers failed to reach an agreement."

"There ought to be no ambiguity," the war-time prime minister asserted, "about a subject involving the lives of millions of young men."

He would ask the government: Do military measures come into operation merely upon failure of negotiations or only when there is an act of unprovoked aggression? He was sorry to see that Eden stood by the military convention.

Dramatically he described how in 1914 military arrangements had thwarted negotiations and precipitated war. "The military convention is the shortest cut to ghastly mechanical carnage," he declared.

Lloyd George emphasized he was not defending Hitler's breaking of the Locarno treaty. He said there was a greater crime. "His greatest offence was that in the inflammatory condition of Europe he should have committed so reckless an act."

"He organized a torchlight procession through a powder magazine and there has been very nearly a very shattering explosion."

Sir Austen Chamberlain, who as foreign secretary negotiated the Locarno treaty, declared the real issue was whether in the future force or law should prevail. Unless something could be done to restore confidence in treaties no new treaty would be possible.

Alluding to what other speakers had described as "Hitler's reassuring utterances," Sir Austen exclaimed: "You find plenty of these. What is lacking is reassuring acts." The German chancellor had offered peace for 25 years but Germany already was bound under the Kellogg-Briand pact never to use war as an instrument of policy.

Referring to Germany's offer to rejoin the League of Nations, Sir Austen said Germany had already indicated she expected the return of her colonies shortly afterwards.

Alluding to the persecution of Jews in Germany he said: "We have got to recognize that German standards and German ethics are not ours." He referred to the glorification of war in German schools, and remarked it was "these big issues, not small matters like the remilitarization of the Rhineland, that are at stake."

Sir Austen dryly described Germany's 1914 diplomacy. "An ultimatum here, an ultimatum there, another ultimatum somewhere else, each time confronting the country or that with brutal force if it did not surrender, each time that diplomacy by force, with mailed fist and shining armor, prevailing over reason, arguments, truth and obligations, in some cases."

"And then the same procedure once too often and the world in arms, resisting aggression. Unless we learn a lesson, unless the world can be assured that it is not in these ways that our quarrels will be settled, we are steadily marching back to a new 1914."

When Frank Barringham was staging wrestling matches here, he couldn't get enough support to pay expenses. NOTES AND COMMENTS

COLEMAN'S winter sport activities were concluded with the banquet and annual meeting of the hockey club on Friday. The club finishes with a surplus, thanks to the management of a good executive and playing record of the team. The games in Calgary with Luscar brought good financial returns, making up for the disappointment to some extent of not seeing them in action here.

SUMMER SPORT does not get the same enthusiastic support as hockey. Football and baseball clubs never attract sufficient to meet the expenses, simply because there is not the same efficient organization creating the incentive to work into championship contests. The Allan Cup is a trophy of little value in itself, but of supreme importance as a trophy to be captured by an amateur hockey team. It is the lightning play, on a glistening sheet of ice, beneath brilliant floodlights, and the clamor of thousands of voices, which arouse enthusiasm to the highest pitch—with the Allan Cup dangling before the eyes of players and spectators alike. Canada is the real home of hockey, and is proud of it.

EASTER APPROACHES, and with it the desire to don new clothes. Everybody who can afford it likes to dress up for Easter, though the weather in this western country is not usually propitious for the showing off of new togs. Some with a cynical turn of mind claim that the reason many go to church on Easter Sunday is to show off their new togs, in which a display of spring millinery is usually conspicuous. Be that so, it is a good thing something induces a good many people to go to church even once a year. If they would drop in the collection plate sufficient to make up for the services they missed, it would make the parsons and church managers rejoice more heartily, too, at Easter.

THE CANADIAN LEGION is taking on new life in Coleman. It has elected officers for 1936, and has for an objective the establishing of a club. This is a worthwhile aim. But it should be remembered that the prime objective of the Legion is the welfare of disabled soldiers, the keeping alive of the spirit and traditions of sacrifice borne through the war torn years, and the memory of those who never returned. At the recent Dominion convention of the Legion in Vancouver, General Ross, Dominion president, remarked that it was a bad reflection that some branches were nothing more than beer-selling clubs, and picked out one branch of 24 members which sold $7500 worth of beer in a year. "That club was nothing more than a blind pig," stated the general. It lessens respect and prestige. The Legion has something to be proud of. It has 158,000 members in 1052 local commands. The average age of veterans is 50, and there are 8639 indigent and unemployable receiving monthly allowances under the War Veterans Allowance Act, and 5675 of these are 60 years or more.

THE FINAL TEST is the caption of an editorial in the Hanna Herald which is worthy of consideration.

It states: In some quarters much is being made of the fact that the Social Credit government was elected in the face of the opposition of the great majority of the newspapers of the province. However, the opposition of the newspapers was based on their contention that Premier Aberhart's plan of Social Credit could not possibly be successfully carried out. Now if the government can carry out the plan and pay $25.00 a month or its equivalent without increasing public debt or taxes or without confiscating private property, then the newspapers were wrong. However, if the government cannot carry out its promised program the newspapers were right.

Newspapers must not be false to their trust. To advocate what appears to be impracticable or impossible is not ethical nor is it right. The public may think and act as it desires but in the end truth will prevail. We believe that all newspapers who stick fast to fundamental truths are rendering a real service. Those who are carried away by momentary glamour or emotional appeal are likely to regret their actions later on.

Pre-election promises, too, have a way of coming home to roost. Hon. Mr. Bennett experienced that not many months ago. He made the definite promise to end unemployment. He might have, too, if given long enough time. But the people were impatient, saw the promise unfulfilled, and unceremoniously kicked him out of office.

The career of the present provincial government depends definitely on its success with the introduction of social credit. Many other matters may be introduced to distract attention but the social credit feature cannot be submerged. If it is introduced and carried on successfully the government will be vindicated and will likely continue to control Alberta's affairs for many, many years to come.—Hanna Herald.

"Great Pals"

(By Eleanor McKowan)

"Among the horses at the Cranbrook Sash & Door company camp is a pair of well matched thoroughbred Percherons. These horses are brothers, a year apart, and were brought from a ranch near Calgary. The pair have never been separated. When Prince is taken to be shod, Duke has to be taken, too, to keep him from fretting."

"They are probably the largest horses in the district, each weighing about a ton. When they lean into their collars, the heaviest loads move. But they are very gentle. They are so tame that they come to the gate of the pasture and let me rub their noses. They hurry to their stalls when the barn boss calls their names, and are great favorites with him and the teamsters."

"Of course, as the horses are as fond of each other, they will never be sold separately, and it is thought that if one should die, the other would become so lonely it would fret itself to death."

The foregoing was published in the Cranbrook Courier, and was taken from the school paper of Cranbrook Central school. The editor in commenting on it stated it arrested his attention because it was a human interest story, by a pupil in the Eighth grade. "It is stated in simple language, as stories of this sort should be told," he stated.

Died in New Zealand

Mr. A. R. L. Davidson, manager of the Government liquor store, received word of the death of a sister, Mrs. R. M. Paterson, of Arrowtown, District of Otago, New Zealand. The Arrowtown Journal gave quite a lengthy obituary and made special reference to her life there. She had been very active in local organizations, and her relations with the Anglican church were marked by a wonderful zeal and an unwavering allegiance—her heart and her hand being ever busy in its interests.

Mrs. Paterson was born at Port Chalmers in 1875, and had lived at Arrowtown since she was married 35 years ago. In summing up her life, The Journal stated: "The life and character of Ethel Paterson have been a benediction to many, and fragrant memories of her friendship and love will be of an abiding nature."

A. Bletcher of Edmonton was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lindoe during the week. He represents Woods Northern Outfitters, and continued his trip to the Kootenays.

The Excel Builders' Supply Co. of Coleman

"EVERYTHING FOR A BUILDING"

The most complete Builders' Supply firm in southwestern Alberta---everything in stock for the building and interior fitting of a home or any mercantile building

Announcement

New Offices and Warehouse to be Erected

APRIL 10 will see the commencement of construction of the new building for The Excel Builders' Supply Co. of Coleman, on the site opposite Sam's Service Station, west end of Main Street. A modern building with approximately 100 feet frontage will be built, and connected therewith will be storage yards for various building supplies.

The Excel Builders' Supply Company will take over all debits and credits from Coleman Lumber Yards for material supplied exclusive of contracts, which remain with J. S. D'Appolonia, General Contractor.

Until the new premises are completed, temporary offices of Excel Builders' Supply Company will remain at the office of Coleman Lumber Yard.

Appreciation Expressed

J. S. D'APPOLONIA, general contractor, wishes to thank the people of Coleman and the Crows Nest Pass for their support throughout the years he has been in business, and trusts that the same support and goodwill will be given the Excel Builders' Supply Company, of which he hopes to be general manager for many years to come. He assures the public that the same policy of straightforwardness will be the policy of the new company, plus better facilities, better service and complete satisfaction.

Mr. D'Appolonia will have his office as general contractor in the Excel Company's building, and where he will be pleased to furnish complete information to all intending to build.

ATTENTION---MODEL BUILDERS! $50.00 IN CASH PRIZES

THE EXCEL BUILDERS' SUPPLY COMPANY OF COLEMAN
(Now Under Construction on the Site Opposite Sam Moore's Service Station)
Are Giving Away $50.00 in Cash Prizes in a MODEL HOME Contest.
Three Big Prizes—First $25.00, Second $15.00, Third $10.00

To be won by the three best constructed and painted House Models. Any Coleman boy or girl up to and including the age of seventeen years may enter, individually, or as a group, to win one of these fine prizes.

All models must be completed and entered at the Excel Builders' Supply Company by midnight, May 30th, 1936. The models will be on display in Excel's new show rooms until the judging on June 6th, 1936.

So start to work now, you model builders, to win one of these big cash awards. All those wishing to enter this contest will please hand in their names at the Coleman Lumber Yard. Do it now! You may be one of the lucky ones.

And remember the closing date—Midnight, May 30th, 1936.

RULES.

- (1) Your model house, with the exception of the windows, must be built entirely of wood. The roof of shingles.
- (2) The floor plan area of the model must be not less than 132 square inches, but must not exceed 308 square inches. The model may be one or two stories but no higher.
- (3) All models will be judged by Exterior appearance only, so it is not necessary to complete the Interior.
- (4) The three prize winners will be chosen solely on the merits of craftsmanship displayed in building and painting the models.
- (5) Models may be of any design the builder wishes. Any combination of color schemes may be chosen in the painting, but two colors (at least) must be used for the body and trim, another color for the roof.
- (6) All models when entered must be accompanied by two labels taken from the tin of MONARCH PURE PAINT, with which the models must be painted. The labels must correspond with the colors used on the models.
- (7) The builder's name is not to be placed on the model, but to be written on the accompanying labels. All models will be identified by a number until after the judging, when the contestant's name will appear on his or her model while it is still on display.
- (8) Non-prize winning models will be returned to the rightful owners shortly after the contest is over.
- (9) The three prize winning models will become the sole property of the Excel Builders' Supply Company; to be used by them in any manner they may choose; without further cost to them, or any claim from contestants, individually or as a group.
- (10) The Judges' decision will be final.

The contest manager has secured three very able Judges, whose names will be announced in a later edition of this paper.

The COLEMAN LUMBER YARD HAS ON hand a complete line of MONARCH PURE PAINTS in sizes suitable for these models, and any further information about this contest may be secured there.

Book Of Remembrance

Will Contain Approximately 68,000 Names Of Canadian Soldiers

Satisfactory progress is being made with the book of remembrance to be placed in the memorial chamber of the parliament buildings at Ottawa, J. R. Bowler, general secretary of the Canadian Legion, reported to the sixth Dominion convention at Vancouver.

The book will contain approximately 68,000 names of Canadians who gave their lives in the war, from Aug. 4, 1914, to April 30, 1922—the date on which the last member of the overseas military forces of Canada was demobilized. It will also contain a page without names dedicated to those who have died, or may die, from war causes subsequent to April 30, 1922.

The work of preparing the book of remembrance was begun four years ago by James Purves, heraldic artist and illuminator, of London, Ont.

Canadian Honey In Britain

The "buy British" movement which has been extended to empire productions, is not without its amusing slogans. Just as the British were getting accustomed to such catch lines as "buy British beef," they were started by a new one reading "buy Canadian honey and keep Empire bees busy."

Youth CongressTo Obtain Expression Of Opinion On Peace Policy

A congress of Canadian people will be held in Ottawa, May 23, 24 and 25. Delegates and representatives from youth organizations of every opinion from every part of Canada, will participate.

The congress is being called to obtain an expression of general youth opinion on "A Peace Policy for Canada" and "Youth in the Canadian Economy." Mutual agreement will be sought on these problems to be used as a guide to the Canadian delegation to the World Youth Congress in Geneva in early September.

It is being called by a committee under the chairmanship of T. W. L. MacDermott, principal of Upper Canada College, initiated by the League of Nations Society in Canada and the Canadian Youth Council, this committee is being enlarged to include representatives from all national young people's organizations, including the political groups, and regional representatives from various parts of Canada.

The agenda as prepared by the committee, includes, under the heading, "Youth in the Canadian Economy," discussions on employment, education and vocational training, recreation and social legislation. Under the heading, "A Peace Policy for Canada," discussion will be directed to Canada's relation to the Empire and to the League of Nations, the right of governments to commit people to war and the control of raw material. The final discussion, in the form of summary, is headed "The Duty of Canadian Youth in particular." It is directed to Canada, to the world, to the promotion of the ideals of the congress and the understanding of the problems of youth.

The committee is working on some plan to materially reduce the expense to delegates from distant points. Headquarters for the congress committee are at 92 Adelaide street West, Toronto.

Aviation ExpansionUrges That Royal Canadian Air Force Be Brought Up To Date

Expansion of commercial aviation in Canada and bringing "up to date" the Royal Canadian Air Force were urged in a resolution passed unanimously by the annual convention of the Canadian Legion in Vancouver.

The resolution states that "the federal government is not at present giving adequate assistance to the development of commercial flying in Canada and is strongly urged to bring about without further delay some plan of definite assistance to all commercial operators."

It was further advocated unemployed labor be used in the development and completion of airports in Canada, that the trans-Canada airway be completed and put into operation with as little delay as possible, and that special consideration should be given to the northern operator to assist in the development of mining areas.

A Valuable AssetGood English Will Enable One To Talk Convincingly

Next to the ability to think, the ability to express oneself convincingly is the most valuable tool one can have in one's equipment. Out of every ten people who rise from perhaps humble beginnings to fame, nine do so because they have equipped themselves with effective English.

If you are properly ambitious your aim should be to make your English error-proof, instantly effective and impressive. Then your employer, your friends, your clients and customers will respond to your resulting personality as you wish them to do.

Peril Of Closed MindMan Who Stops Thinking And Learning Becomes A Fossil

The peril of the closed mind is the deadliest of all perils, whether it overtakes a man in middle life or in old age. To be ever learning is one gateway to the fountain of youth. Across that path there is no deadline. When laziness stops a man from thinking and fear prevents him from exploring new realms of truth, that man is on the way to the museum. His contentment, if he has attained such, is the contentment of the fossil.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest properly. You feel sluggish, your stomach troubles, your constipation, your nervousness, your indigestion, your headache, your backache, your rheumatism, your skin troubles, your general ill-health, are all due to a sluggish liver.

A new low-priced movement down "liver" get it done. You need something that works as the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Cleanliness and good health make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a hundred times as much as any other medicine. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! (Bottle bears picture of a man.)

New Device To Aid DeafPersons Rated 50 Per Cent. Deaf Hear Almost Perfectly

Success in giving 80 per cent. perfect hearing to half deaf persons was announced recently by researchers seeking a scientifically ideal ear amplifier.

Delighted smiles of persons hearing the high notes of an opera for the first time in their lives are rewarding the researchers. From Vern O. Knudsen, and two graduate students, Norman Watson and Ludwig Spemeyer, who have spent a year and a half on the project at the University of California.

They seek to place mechanical hearing aids on the same prescription basis as eye glasses, promising great relief to the hard of hearing, who are estimated at 3,000,000 in the United States alone.

Discovering that most of such afflicted persons hear some sound perfectly, but are deaf to others, Dr. Knudsen built an amplifier that will pick out a certain range of tone and amplify that alone.

Partly deaf persons, most of them professors and students on the campus, are given sound tests running up and down the scale. Usually they hear perfectly in the middle range, but are deaf to high pitched tones. The amplifier is adjusted to bolster only their "deaf spots" and records are played through earphones, persons rated 50 per cent. deaf have been enabled to hear almost perfectly.

Aid For War VeteransProposal To Set Up A Veterans' Assistance Commission

Ottawa.—Evidence that war veterans are to receive a great deal of consideration in one form and another at the hands of the government is seen in several notices of motion advanced in the House of Commons by pensions Minister Power.

Major Power proposes to set up a veterans' assistance commission which will labor to find work for ex-service men and generally to carry on research and make investigations on their behalf. It will be a paid commission.

Another measure proposed reorganization to the extent that the pension appeal court will be merged with the pensions commission and become a division of that body, with added commissioners to be appointed so that appeal hearings may be speeded. It also proposes to limit the time in which pension applications may be made, limit the payment of retroactive pensions, and generally to clarify and strengthen the Pensions Act.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 5

JESUS MEETING HUMAN NEEDS

Golden text: Come; for all things are now ready. Luke 14:17.
Lesson: Luke 14.
Devotional reading: Isaiah 55:1-7.

Explanations And Comments

The Parable of the Slighted Invitation, Luke 14:15-24. Jesus' mention of the recompense in "the resurrection of the just" (verse 14) reminded a guest present in the Pharisee's house (verse 1) of the great feast which, according to Jewish belief, would usher in the Messianic reign. He, implicitly observed, "Blessed is he who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God." Then Jesus told him a parable designed to dispel his mind of his evident expectation that, being a Jew, he would be present as his right. "Yes," said the Master, blessed indeed are they who sit down at the heavenly feast. You think you are one of those whom the kingdom of heaven has invited to the banquet; what have you done, though, with the invitation? I know many who have received it who have simply tossed it aside; are you of that number? Listen now to my story of the divine reward of those who have accepted the invitation. "A certain man [who represents God] gave a great supper; and he bade many," thus Jesus' parable began. A supper! There is the symbol of true earthly pleasure, especially to an oriental mind. By no other figure could our Lord have expressed to the audience so attractively the idea of real happiness as by a feast. This is his favorite symbol for the kingdom of heaven. Here it is a great supper. Elsewhere it is a wedding festival; and yet again, the marriage feast of a king's son.

He sent forth his servants (Jesus Christ) at supper time to say to them that were bidden, "Come; for all things are now ready." Dwight L. Moody, when preaching upon this parable, was wont to read this answer to the invitation: "Having received this evening through thy servant an invitation to be present at the marriage-supper of the Lamb, I here and now thank thee for including me, and by thy help will certainly accept it and be present." Such, however, was not the response that the message received. They all with one accord began to make excuse, to "beg off," as is the literal understanding. "All were made by the same spirit, though their excuses differed. They had all made their engagements for business or pleasure without regard to the banquet, to which they were indifferent.

Believe It Or NotEnglishman Claims Mummified Hawk Bleeds During Any British Crisis

If ever war is declared on Great Britain, Sir Mark Grant-Sturgis will only have to look at a mummified hawk which he owns and he will be bleeding from head and breast. The hawk originally came from Egypt, and I understand that its habit of bleeding during British crises was discovered at the time of the Boer War. Throughout this war and the Great War the hawk bled continuously. Sir Mark saw the bird the other day. Unmoved by Italian Abyssinian bloodshed, the patriotic hawk remains as dry as a bone.—Daily Mirror.

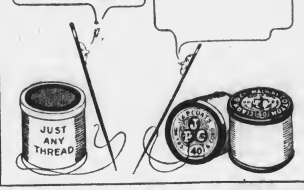

Wool Production Affected

Production and quality of wool in southern Alberta will be affected this year due to extreme winter, according to P. V. Lewis, wool agent at Lethbridge, Alta. Growers sustained heavy losses, some reporting losses up to 25 per cent. Cold weather retarded normal growth, he said.

Making New Appointment*Several Names Mentioned For Lieutenant-Governor Of Alberta

New appointment to the office of lieutenant-governor of Alberta will be made when the five-year term of Hon. W. L. Walsh expires on May 4. Official notification has been received by the lieutenant-governor from Premier King.

Several names are mentioned as possibilities for the appointment, including J. W. McDonald, K.C., of Macleod; Dr. F. W. Gershaw, of Medicine Hat; Dr. H. M. Tory, former president of the University of Alberta and ex-chairman of the National Research Council; Col. P. C. H. Primrose, former police magistrate at Edmonton; Capt. J. C. Bowen, former house leader of the Alberta Liberal party; and W. W. Prevey, pioneer Edmonton business man.

SELECTED RECIPESCOLD WATER SPONGE CAKE

- 3 eggs
- 8 tablespoons cold water
- 1½ cups fine granulated sugar
- Grated rind of 1 lemon
- 2 cups flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder

Beat yolks with a Dover beater until thick and lemon colored. Add 4 tablespoons cold water and continue beating. Add the sugar, lemon rind and 1 cup of flour and beat until thick. Add the remaining 4 tablespoons of cold water and flour, which has been sifted four times with the baking powder and salt. Beat 3 minutes. Concentrated SunlightHarnessed Sun Power With A Revolving Battery Of Mirrors

H. E. McCoy, bald Los Angeles inventor, gingerly held a steel plate in front of a beam of his "concentrated sunlight" and chuckled as the ray promptly melted a hole through the plate, the molten metal dripping down like melted butter.

He waved triumphantly at a huge revolving battery of 60 mirrors which was focussing the bright California noon-day sun into a beam some 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit in temperature.

"We'll run all our factories with 'sun power' through outfits like this some day," he declared.

McCoy's invention consists of three panels, each holding 20 curved slabs of silvered window glass. They tip up or down and run on a circular track, following the sun's path from east to west. The sun's rays are kept aimed constantly on a fire-brick oven 15 feet away.

All the sunlight striking 60 square feet of mirror is concentrated on the small target, raising the temperature to approximately half the terrific heat of the surface of the sun itself.

McCoy says he has melted, among other metals, tungsten carbide, indicating the furnace develops well over 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Seek Canadian ExhibitsSouth Africa Wants Dominion Represented At Empire Show

Canadian exhibits for the Empire Exhibition at Johannesburg, South Africa, are being sought, according to a letter received at the Regina Board of Trade from F. P. Cosgrove, of the Government Exhibition Committee, Ottawa. The pamphlet accompanying the letter outlines facilities available for the Canadian section of the exhibition and gives details of the arrangements. South Africa, it points out, is the fifth best market for Canadian goods.

A Great Advantage. The new trans-Atlantic air service planned to link Britain and Canada will be extended to the United States because of the "obvious advantages" of securing a portion of America's mail and passenger traffic. Sir Philip Sassoon, under-secretary for air, told the British House of Commons.

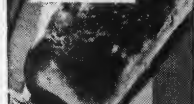

Jerusalem has been so frequently ruined upon ruins that to-day its foundations are 125 feet higher than they were 1,900 years ago.

New Organ For Westminster

Instrument To Be Installed In Time

For Coronation Of King Edward
Westminster Abbey is to have a new organ in time for the coronation of King Edward VIII. It is expected to cost £20,000. An anonymous donor has given £5,000, and it is hoped the balance will be raised without a public appeal. "Most of our present organ is 200 years old," said the dean of Westminster, Dr. Foxley Norris, "and it has been patched and patched in recent years. Once or twice it has broken down and one whole part of the organ is out of action."

Tin cans were first made by tin-smiths, who turned them out by hand at the rate of 60 a day.

Icebergs have been known to take as long as 200 years to melt.

FLEMING'S
FOLLY— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread." Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is unhurt. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties.

Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torney to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Helen and Link ride to Rawhide for supplies and to obtain funds to carry out the dam project. They meet Roper, who greets Helen and offers to show with her. Link goes to see the Sheriff, who tells him Buzz Hamilton has been paroled, and would arrive on the incoming stage, but that he thinks Link has made a mistake in getting Buzz released.

Buzz Hamilton arrives back in Rawhide while Fleming and Helen are in the bank getting a loan for payment of wages for work on the dam. Roper Kilgo and Jackpot Mell meet him and he goes into the saloon with them. By the time his sister and Link come from the bank, Buzz has had several drinks. Roper has distorted the facts concerning the dam proposal to Buzz, making it appear that Link was trying to ruin him. Buzz, inflamed with liquor and anger, tries to throttle Fleming, but is thrown to the floor. Then Helen appears and tells Fleming she has been robbed of the $500 they had obtained from the bank.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER X.

Fleming ran down the few steps from the saloon platform, crossed the board sidewalk, and grasped her pinto's bridle. "Robbed?" he echoed. "You mean our eight hundred—it's gone?"

"Yeah! As I rode past the timber near Iron Spring a man held me up. I—I struggled with him," she panted. "But he got our eight hundred gone. Oh, Link, what shall we do?"

He slipped the pinto's reins over his arm. Out of the corners of his eyes he saw men hurrying from the saloon. "Sah—make out he don't amount to much. Helen," he added with quick concern at sight of a car cruise on her cheek, "You're hurt!"

"N-no. It's nothing." She touched the spot and with fingers that trembled, tucked her glossy hair into a strand and readjusted her worn Stetson. The girl brushed dust from her blouse and skirt and glanced toward the approaching men. Suddenly her eyes encountered Buzz. At first she gaped incredulously and her red lips parted. Then uttering a low cry, Helen darted forward.

"Buzz!" She flung herself into his arms.

Fleming, with Roper Kilgo, Mell, and the others watched for an instant the mute display of affection between brother and sister. Touched by the scene, they turned away. Link felt a hand on his arm and looked up into the grey glinting eyes of Sheriff Ames Stephen.

"She got robbed, Link. How much? Who did it? Where?"

He could not reply to the third question but did answer the first. "Ames," the Star Loop owner said in a low voice, "he could not hear. 'Don't let out our horse, cause I'd make things harder for us at the dam. Helen got robbed of eight hundred bucks we just borrowed from Otto Pieper.'"

The law man's eyes widened. He made over to the girl, Fleming at his heels. "Tell me about it, Miss Hamilton, so's I can start huntin' for the guy right off!"

There was another moment of staring at Buzz, taking his thin face between her two soft palms while she kissed him again and again. "Oh!" she breathed as happy, thankful tears coated down the smooth tan of her cheeks. "I'm glad you're free, Buzz! Nothing else matters now. But how—" She stopped. "I don't understand. Your three years—"

"Link got me paroled," Buzz measured the rancher with eyes that expressed not the slightest gratitude.

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this:

Helen turned to look at Fleming, who shifted weight in embarrassment. At length he lifted his gaze to find hers still fixed upon him. Unspeaking tenderness lay in the soft pool of her eyes, and a fondness he had scarcely dared hope even to exist. Of a sudden he felt again that the Silver Creek project must be made a success. So that later, when both spreads prospered from its waters, he could ask Helen the question he had toyed with inwardly while they looked at the wedding and engagement ring display in Irv. Lane's window.

She was describing the holdup. "He wore a bandana mask and walked out from behind a big bulldozer right alongside the road. He had two guns, and he was a heavy-set man, not very tall, but powerful looking. He wanted the money we—I—had just drawn from the bank."

"How much?" Kilgo asked directly.

"I had my thirty-eight," she continued, pretending not to hear. "I tried to get it, but he came at me and grabbed my wrist. Pulled me off my horse, and we struggled. He—hurt me, bending my arm behind my back. But I got a clue," she finished with grim-set lips. "I got this!"

Helen held forth a leather wrist cuff such as was commonly worn by punchers. It was not new but dark with use, and its rivet design of a fleur-de-lis could only be made out on close inspection. Ames accented on a brief scrutiny and held the object aloft. "Anybody know whose this is?"

Apparently no one did. The cuff resembled others worn by many a man in Boone County, yet was not exactly similar. At length Stephen turned on his heel, stepping toward his office fifty yards down the street. "I'm going for a look at the place," he announced briefly. "Might be there's other clues. Sounds like my guy Berrens, maybe, that killed Soak Torney an' put dynamite in a tank's horse. Anyhow, I'll get that money back. Might take some time, but we'll grab the guy sooner or later!"

There was some doubt of this in Link's mind, but he did not voice it as he touched Helen's arm. "Do you think we might start for the ranch now?"

"Oh! Yes, I think we had better. Link," she added in a low tone, "could we get another loan from Otto Pieper?"

"Don't think so. We better get out of town before Otto hears about this. There'd only be an argument and everybody'd find out about our business."

Roper Kilgo held her pinto while the girl remounted. "I'm shore sorry that hombre had the crust to lay a finger on yuh, Helen. Yuh gosh, if I meet up with 'im I'll be lead foot an' talk afterward, yuh bet!" He flung a surly glance at Link. "Oughtn't to've been allowed to go alone anyhow if yuh had money along," Roper growled.

Fleming had dispatched Luke Green to his livery barn for a saddle horse, and this was now brought for Buzz Hamilton. He climbed astride somewhat stiffly but seemed pleased at the feel of a mount between his legs after so long a period, and they started at a trot out of Rawhide.

For some time Link rode in silence, listening to the eager questions Helen put to her brother. But young Hamilton was moody from the liquor he had consumed, in the Half Moon, and the excitement of their reunion waned, he adopted an attitude of dogged sullenness.

Presently Helen urged her mount closer to Link's. "Is this the surprise you had for me? Is it what you spoke to Sheriff Stephen about?" He nodded. "I figured we'd come out of the bank about the time the stage rolled in so yuh'd get a real surprise. O course," he said so that Buzz could not hear, "I didn't plan on him gettin' into the saloon."

She cast a worried glance at her brother. He had turned his head away for a furtive sip from a pint flask of whisky. Stowing it in his pocket, he faced front, watching them covertly to see if they had noticed.

Helen's face wore a look of despair. She rode close to her brother and laid a hand on his arm. "I wish you wouldn't do that, Buzz," she said softly. "You know, I'm so glad you are back, and we're going to have such a wonderful time, starting all over again. You must forget the past and think only of the future. Wasn't it generous of Link to arrange to—to get your freedom, Buzz?"

He answered with a malevolent look. "Still puttin' his game over on yuh? Generous? Yeah—to himself."

"Why, Buzz? Whatever do you mean?"

"I mean he's roped yuh into his fool irrigation scheme—what folks call Fleming's Folly. He's afraid yuh might back out while there's still a chance to save our Triple H from bankruptcy. So for a last play to keep yuh fooled he got me paroled. That, and because he was afraid Kilgo would get me a full pardon, the only thing really worth while. If I had my legal rights Fleming couldn't figure to keep the wool pulled over yore eyes! Paroled this way, I haven't got 'em."

Helen stared from one man to the other, her plump oval face drawn in pain. "Oh, Buzz, don't say that! I went into partnership with Link of my own free will. Why, that dam is going to be the makings of our fortune!"

Again he fished the flat bottle from his pocket. "Makin' of the Star Loop, yuh mean?" Uncorking the flask, he raised it to his lips.

"Buzz! Don't drink, please! You know yuh—that it was part of the cause of your shooting—I mean, the bottle—away, Link. She stopped, anxiously and hurt fighting for dominance of her lovely face. "Buzz, please don't begin drinking and gambling the instant you come home!"

He swallowed some of the fiery liquor as if deliberately to flaunt her request. But of a sudden, as he was slowing the bottle away, Link spurred his stallion to Hamilton's off-side. With a quick sweep of his hand he sent the bottle hurtling into the dust.

Buzz gasped. "What the hell yuh doin'?"

"Keep this up and your parole is going to end dogged soon. I planned to surprise your sister, make her happy for sight of you, and here you go back to company like Jackpot Mell and the others the minute you land in town. Watch your step!" Fleming warned sharply. "Or yuh'll find yourself on the inside lookin' out, like you were till I went to a lot of bother to help you!"

"Threatenin' me, eh? I wish to

Master Code In Alberta

Provides For Fixing Both Maximum And Minimum Prices

Fixing of both maximum and minimum prices are provided in the general master code binding upon all classes of retail trade in Alberta, which has been approved by the provincial government and was released by Hon. E. C. Manning, minister of trade and industry. It is to take effect April 1 next.

The minister stated that regulations under the code will provide for a licensing fee of not more than $2, with $1 for each additional license.

No additional license will be required in a community where there are only general stores, regardless of the lines of merchandise handled, the minister said. A general store license will cover all classifications of merchandise.

Renewing Relief Act

House Of Commons Places Resolution On Order Paper

Renewal of the relief act for another year is provided for in resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor.

The relief act lapses at the end of each fiscal year and must be renewed in order that necessary grants to provinces and other assistance to meet unemployment can be continued.

The minister said the legislation which he will introduce eliminates the "blank cheque" features which Liberals opposed so bitterly during the last parliament. The legislation, he said, will call for approval by parliament of appropriations made under the act.

Little Helps For This Week

In your patience possess ye your souls. Luke 21:19.

What though they may be dark, and earth With needless care doth vex till mirth To thee no sweet strain singeth; Still hide thy life above, and still Believe that God is love; fulfill, Whatever ill He bringeth.

The soul loses command of itself when it is impatient. When it submits without a murmur it possesses itself in peace, and possesses God. To be impatient is to desire what we have not, or not to desire what we have. Why make a calamity of it by being impatient? Peace does not dwell in outward things, but within the soul. We may preserve it in the midst of bitterest pain if our will remains firm and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquiescence even in disagreeable things, not in an exemption from bearing them. The chief pang of most trials is not so much the actual suffering itself as our own spirit of resistance to it.

Origin Of Old Term

"Bitter End" Has No Connection With Meaning Of Word

When we speak of the bitter end we often mean an end that is the reverse of sweet, but the term originated in a way that has nothing to do with taste or the usual meaning of bitter. Bitts are a pair of posts on the deck of a ship for fastening a rope or cable. Thus when the bitter end has been paid out there is no rope left to wind round the bitts.

He stated further that it was not his purpose at the present time to open up another detachment in this province. The only condition under which another detachment would be opened would be to replace a detachment that was being closed up.

However, upon our urgent request he did state that he would inform Sergeant Cawsey of the Blairmore detachment to send two constables to Coleman on each "Pay Day." The letter was dictated in our presence.

I regret very much that we are unable to do anything further for you in this connection at this time.
